

Australian 3PL Star Track Express Selects HighJump Supply Chain Advantage Suite

HighJump Software, a 3M company, a global provider of supply chain execution solutions, today announced that Star Track Express has selected HighJump Supply Chain Advantage suite. Star Track Express, a technology leader with consistent double-digit growth, selected the HighJump solution to support its rapidly growing business. The Australian provider of third-party logistics (3PL) and express road and airfreight transport plans to use the system in warehousing operations across the country to increase productivity through greater automation and improved fulfillment capabilities.

With customers across diverse industries such as motor cycles, electronics, household appliances and consumer healthcare, Star Track Express was motivated to find a flexible, scalable solution that would allow its warehousing operations to meet a range of customer needs quickly. HighJump Supply Chain Advantage suite will integrate with numerous host systems across the 3PL's customer base to facilitate the flow of real-time inventory information. The solution will enable Star Track Express customers to access shipment status and other key inventory and account information through a secure Web portal.

"Our goal is to provide our warehousing customers with better, more efficient and more cost-effective services," said Ian Greentree, national logistics manager, Star Track Express. "The HighJump Supply Chain Advantage suite will be an integral part of helping us achieve that goal by offering customers a seamless domestic supply chain solution with real-time visibility from order pick to proof of delivery."

"HighJump Software has greatly increased its presence in Australia and around the world," said Jim Walsh, vice president of international operations, HighJump Software. "We're pleased to work with Star Track Express as it builds a solid foundation for advancing supply chain operations and growing its business."
