

Mouser Electronics Joins 3M Touch Systems Distributor Network

3M Touch Systems, Inc., a wholly-own subsidiary of the 3M Company and a leading innovator and manufacturer of touch technology, introduces today Mouser Electronics as its newest authorized North American distributor for MicroTouch™ touch sensors and electronics. Mouser, known for its rapid introduction of new products and technologies to electronic design engineers, will be offering popular screen sizes of MicroTouch ClearTek™ II and ToughTouch II surface capacitive touch sensors and the broad array of EX II capacitive touch electronics and SC Series resistive touch electronics via the quarterly Mouser Electronics catalog and its on-line store at www.mouser.com.

“Mouser Electronics is well known for providing design engineers quick delivery of the components they need for creating next generation products,” said Chris Tsourides, business unit manager, 3M Touch Systems. “We’re confident that Mouser will help add another dimension to making MicroTouch products available to a broader range of engineers.”

“Our engineering customers require rapid introduction of the newest products and technologies for their design projects,” said Mike Scott, Mouser vice president of Active Products. “By adding these new products to our linecard, we’re able to offer our customers complete design solutions and quickly introduce 3M’s MicroTouch brand name to a previously untapped segment of the engineering community.”

3M Touch Systems provides fast, reliable and accurate touch products to customers worldwide under the “MicroTouch” brand. Popular interactive applications include casino gaming, retail point of sale, foodservice, hospitality, self-service, mobile handheld, and interactive digital signage.
